

The Instructors

The instructors at The University of Findlay Western Farm include: Clark Bradley, Art O'Brien, Meri Marsh, Mark Smith, Randy Wilson, Jerry Coleman, and Spencer Zimmerman. They are a diverse group, currently involved in associations such as AQHA, NRHA, NSBA, APHA, and NCHA. Under this leadership, The University of Findlay's IHSA team has competed for several years winning many national honors in both the individual and team horsemanship events. Our staff has years of insight and real life horse experience, having judged as well as successfully competed in the show pen. With their combined knowledge and experience they have successfully progressed young riders in the areas of western horsemanship, western pleasure, showmanship, reining, and overall training fundamentals.

Follow Your Dreams

The youth horsemanship schools help you to become a better rider. You will learn and apply training techniques that will help make you and your horse more competitive in any discipline you choose. These techniques coincide with what is taught in the University's Western Equestrian Studies Program. When you are ready for college you too can be a part of this amazing program.

While attending this camp you will meet new friends, have a great experience with your horse and create memories that will last a lifetime.
